

Investment Summary

India has the world's largest population of millennials and Gen-Z. The emerging sectors that benefit from this demographic profile and high-quality product and service aspiration, will grow much faster than the traditional sectors. By building a strong moat, the leaders of these sectors will grow fast and create higher value for their shareholders. We invest in these LEADERS. They compound earnings for a very long period of time with very little business volatility and create fabulous returns for long term investors.
